

Breeze Thru Brevard City

Brevard, NC

July 14, 2018, 7:30 AM

The Amblers will continue our early summer walks Saturday, July 14, in the city of Brevard. Come enjoy the residential and historic areas, parks, and a very interesting, attractive downtown, finishing with a college campus, that though small, is three colleges in one.

On or off campus, there may be a chance of seeing a white squirrel, a for real, not albino, specialty of this town. I saw two on my last walk of this route.

We will start registration in the parking lot of the Food Lion Supermarket in the College Square mini-mall at 7:30 in order to start the walk as close as possible to 8:00. The start is early in the hope of avoiding summer heat but be sure to bring water.

The store will be open, and restrooms are available inside, as well as along the way. 5 and 10 km. walk routes are offered. There are also many good lunch spots available within a short drive for after the walk.

We look forward to your presence, and this chance to continue to a good walking year together.
